<sup>1</sup> Boom uitgevers Den Haag, in consultation with the editors of the Maastricht Law Series (MLS), will issue the following open access policy with regards to both English and Dutch book publications within the series: the author will receive the PDF of the publication six months after the title has been published in the MLS. This PDF can be made available to the public in Maastricht University's online repository. In addition, Boom will also make the title available on our upcoming open access platform. This policy does not apply to educational publications that are primarily used within the curriculum of the university. For those educational publications, there is also no fixed purchase unless otherwise desired and agreed. The possibilities for a direct open access publication with Boom can be found on the last page of this offer.

Our publishing services

We take on the full responsibility of the editing, production and marketing of our publications.

Copyediting

<sup>2</sup> Please note that the charges indicated are for paperback copies of the book, when the book will be published as a hardcover, please contact us for information about the charges.

We will provide copyediting: this includes editing for sense, style, citation format checking, typos and completeness.

Typesetting

Our typesetting services will include the production of proofs, author alterations regarding the typesetting and the creation of full-text XML, PDF and HTML. Our typesetting services are performed in The Netherlands, and are based on templates and automatic typesetting.

Printing (optional)

We work with various suppliers, who offer off-set and POD (printing on demand) services. We negotiated favourable terms which apply company-wide (e.g. including Boom uitgevers Amsterdam and Boom uitgevers Den Haag). The terms include favourable prices and rapid turnaround times.

Online publishing

The digital publication will be made available free of charge (Open Access) through our own Open Access platform. The print version will not be made available free of charge but at a fee to the user.

Marketing

The aim of our marketing efforts will be to generate as much traffic to our Open Access publications as possible by making use of Google Adwords and applying social media. SEO techniques will be applied to make the publication easy to find. Our publications will be promoted in all relevant promotional material, such as online brochures and catalogues, at relevant conferences and in our digital newsletters. Metadata of the issue/article will be sent to all relevant databases such as OCLC as it will then be automatically incorporated in library catalogues.
