Your dedicated team

We are firm believers in short channels of communication that stay the same. Andi has assembled a team that you can always contact for assistance. This team consists of your dedicated sales support representative, Ronald Marx, and his backup Sjef Vergoossen. When specific supplementary expertise is needed, we can call on our colleagues in the Studio, IT, data analysis and quality assurance. This approach guarantees the quality of our collaboration.

You can email your questions, requests for quotes, and project orders to: bestelling-um@andi-printsolutions.com

Quality, reliable delivery and corporate social responsibility are very important to us here at Andi. These business principles are a fundamental piece of our DNA. Key concepts include maintaining accountability and choosing the best options for people, planet and society. We have summarized this in our mission, our core values and our foundation. For the past 25 years, our Andi team has embodied these principles.

Our certifications

Andi has been certified in a wide range of areas:

CERTIFICATION	FOCUSING ON
ISO 9001	Quality management system that helps us optimize our business processes.
ISO 14001	Environmental management system that helps us enhance our environmental performance.
ISO 27001	Management system that helps us continually improve our information security.
FSC	Credible assurance that the FSC paper we use is sourced from sustainably managed forests.
Ecovadis Gold status	Ecovadis is an independent international provider of business sustainability ratings, assessing companies based on their performance on environmental protection, CO2-neutral production, good working conditions, sustainable procurement and business ethics.

We are pleased and proud to have achieved Gold status from Ecovadis!

Social return

Here at Andi, we believe that it is the differences that make us stronger and better. In line with that belief, we support equal opportunities for all. We are committed to achieving an inclusive culture in which differences are acknowledged, appreciated and leveraged. Different perspectives, backgrounds, knowledge and experience make key contributions to fulfilling your objectives – and ours. Diversity, equality and inclusion are always high priorities at Andi.

Our goals include:

- Promoting diversity in our workforce through our policies on hiring and promotion;
- Achieving a healthy mix of women and men in all layers of our organization;
- Ensuring equal pay for equal work;
- Facilitating participation by at least six people with a disadvantage on the labor market in 2022;
- Andi is an accredited work placement company, offering work placements to students in MBO, HBO and university programs in the region every year. We are also interested in connecting to your programs and students. For example, we can offer work placement projects involving mutual exchanges of knowledge and experience (win-win situation). The location of our company is very convenient for your students and easily accessible by public transport.

Local for local

We also have very strong ties to Limburg, the region where Andi is based. As an active member of the Limburg business community, we provide employment opportunities and engage with society in the region through various initiatives, including a number of joint projects with various educational institutes. We also contribute actively to regional activities in sports, culture, business and social engagement: local for local. Andi is a proud and active member of Limburg society.
